MAKE A DIFFERENCE

Would you like to make strategic business decisions on how tax dollars are spent? If so, now is the perfect time to consider a career in Federal contracting!

The U.S. Government is the world's largest buyer, spending more than $400 billion a year, and it needs your help!

Candidates for jobs in contracting are in high demand throughout the Federal Government. There is a wide variety of positions open at every level. Federal contracting careers are also rich with opportunities to advance and grow.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

- Learning doesn't stop with a college or post-graduate degree. Fortunately, individual career development is central to the Federal Government's efforts to build a highly-skilled workforce.
- Federal agencies offer a variety of programs to support training, academic advancement, leadership development, career development, and technical skills training.
- Is education important to you? Many government agencies offer tuition reimbursement, assistance and loan forgiveness.

GREAT BENEFITS

- As a federal employee, you and your family will have access to a range of health benefits that are designed to make your federal career very rewarding.
- The Federal Employees Health Benefit (FEHB), provides the widest selection of health care plans of any U.S. employer. You may be able to enroll in health, dental, vision and life insurance, flexible spending accounts, and apply for long term care insurance.
- All Federal hires are automatically covered under the Federal Employees Retirement System (FERS), Social Security and are eligible for the Thrift Savings Plan (TSP), a unique defined contribution plan with up to 5% government agency match!
- Many Federal agencies provide assistance to employees through multiple means, including on-site child care, resource and referral services, and the child care subsidy program.

DoD: The Department of Defense employs civilians in an array of critical positions worldwide, with opportunities for a competitive salary, great benefits, unsurpassed training, and the pride of defending our Nation interests.
