Maria Swaby is the Director, Suspension & Debarment and Contract Remedies Division for the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA). Maria is responsible for the management and oversight of GSA's suspension and debarment program, and the agency protest, eligibility determination, task order, and metrication ombudsman functions. Maria also supports and advises GSA's Senior Procurement Executive on a variety of policy and government contracts issues.

Prior to joining GSA, Maria worked for almost nine years at United Technologies Corporation-Otis Elevator Company, counseling senior management on employment law and compliance issues and handling government contracts matters. Maria also practiced labor and employment law for three years at the law firm of Cummings & Lockwood, in Hartford and New Haven, Connecticut.

Maria has a Bachelor of Arts degree in English and French from the University of Connecticut and a Juris Doctor from the University of Connecticut School of Law. Maria studied for one year in Rouen, France, during college, and for one semester in Aix-en-Provence, France, during law school. She holds an LL.M. degree from The George Washington School of Law. Maria is a member of the Connecticut Bar Association, the American Bar Association, Public Contracts Law Section, and the National Contract Managers Association. She is also one of the founding members of the George Washington School of Law Government Contracts Alumni Association.
