

FAC-C Modernization: Employee Checklist

Review FAC-C Policy Changes

- Review updates to the Federal Acquisition Certification in Contracting (FAC-C) program, including changes to training, education, experience, and testing requirements.

Explore Credentials

- Review updates to the new credential program. The program will provide you with opportunities to build technical expertise at the point of need and support your continuous learning requirements.

Check-in with Your Supervisor

- Schedule time with your supervisor to review the program updates, discuss how the changes might impact you, and ask any questions.

Review Your Agency's Guidance

- Review your agency-specific guidance to help determine specific action items, especially if you are currently in-progress towards achieving a FAC-C level I, II, or III.
